MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Meeting with Hal Ford to Discuss NIE 11-3/8 and the B-Team Report

1. Mr. Ford had contacted us requesting our views on the David Binder article in the 26 December New York Times surfacing the A-Team/B-Team subject. Mr. Ford intends to prepare a memorandum for Senator Stevenson and wanted to be sure he understood the issues involved. In response to his request [redacted]

[redacted] and I met with him today.

2. [redacted] responding to a question from Mr. Ford, began with a detailed discussion of the ICBM accuracy problem; how the two teams approached analysis on it; and their differences in viewpoint. [redacted] next explained the differences on Soviet low-altitude air defenses. Mr. [redacted] concluded with a concise summary of the B-Team views on Soviet strategic objectives and where they differed from those of the estimate.

3. Mr. Ford asked a number of questions about not only the B-Team approach but also about the B-Team's composition and methodology. Mr. Ford is well aware that the B-Team was by inclination as well as charter predisposed to criticism of past strategic estimates.

4. Mr. Ford told us that we should be receiving a letter from Senator Inouye requesting access to the estimate and the B-Team Report. We are offering Mr. Ford an opportunity to read the estimate in my office but we have asked him to defer
